Cocaine in Yachts

We have found that Cocaine is predominantly used as a stimulant i.e.

- Stressful maintenance period with short deadlines
- Long or back to back charters
- By senior crew to meet the needs of owners and guests

According to the National Institute on Drug Abuse, there is no way to gauge, for certain, which people in our society will become addicted to drugs or alcohol. However, any individual who makes the choice to use addictive drugs is at risk. There are certain risk factors that can increase the risk of addiction, including:

- A pre-existing mental condition, such as depression, anxiety or schizophrenia
- Gender
- Ethnic background
- Genes
- Environment, including exposure to peer influence and stress

Cocaine is not a substance that can be purchased over the counter or picked up at a local drug store with a prescription. Because it is illegal, those who use the drug must frequent dangerous places and interact with drug dealers in order to obtain their drugs. Placing oneself, the crew and the vessel at risk IS IT REALLY WORTH IT?
